EDITOR'S NOTEBOOK

Dear Archie Readers,

It's time to swing into spring with ARCHIE'S SPRING BREAK #4. This 48-page giant special is the perfect way to lose those winter blues. In the first story, we find "The Archies" about to board a cruise ship. It seems one of Jughead's relatives managed to arrange a gig for the band, on a one-week cruise to some tropical islands. However, the main attraction for this trip is not "The Archies," it's a world famous chef. This story takes on "Titanic" proportions, when the chef and his staff have to be removed from the ship, due to extreme sea-sickness. A passenger, who will remain nameless, volunteers to save the day and the cruise. Find out who this mystery passenger is in "Ship of Fools." This book will be on sale next month.

If you heard that your school was going to be torn down, what would you do? Jump for joy? Stop taping your favorite cartoon shows, 'cause now you'll have time to watch them? Maybe have a party? Well, just because your someday-to-be alma mater is going to disappear, doesn't mean you're off the hook as far as going to school. And... you and your best buddies might be split up. When Archie and his friends are told that good ol' Riverdale High is going to be replaced by a mega supermarket, they're not too happy. But the school board is determined to go forward with their plan to replace this historic landmark. Will the students of Riverdale High, led by Archie and his friends, find a solution to this problem? The answer to this puzzling question lies amongst the pages of ARCHIE & FRIENDS

#35. The story is entitled, "The Last Days of Riverdale High" (pretty catchy, huh?). You'll wish school would be twelve months a year after reading this story. Don't miss it.

I think we can all agree that Betty and Veronica do not always get along. Sometimes, they even stop speaking to each other. But eventually, they make up, because after all, they are best friends. What if Betty found a new best friend? What if Betty's new friend is.....CHERYL BLOSSOM?!! Tell me this doesn't sound like a scenario you'd like to see. I'm always getting letters saying, "Poor Betty. Why does she let Veronica push her around?" or "How come Veronica is so mean to Betty?" Well, here it is, kids. Payback time. Betty and Cheryl, Cheryl and Betty. Astalavista, Veronica. Read all about it in CHERYL BLOSSOM #23. Also on sale next month.

The Wombat

The wombat is a small marsupial found in Australia and the island of Tasmania. It looks like a half bear-half badger. It is only about 36-45 inches long and weighs between 45-90 pounds. It lives no longer than 5 years. The wombat mainly eats grass, but it also eats roots, shrubs, fungi, bark, and leaves. It lives in burrows in the ground, where it spends the day sleeping, since it is mostly nocturnal. Each wombat can have up to ten burrows, which can be as deep as 6 feet. There is a depression near the entrance to the burrow, where they warm themselves in the morning. The Tasmanians used to make doormats from the wombat's fur because it was so bristly.

Kangaroos

The kangaroo is a marsupial from Australia. They can live in the desert, forest, swamps, or near cliffs. There are many kinds of kangaroos. The tree kangaroo can leap 30 feet from one tree branch to another! The rat kangaroo's look a lot like real rats, but much more attractive. One of the biggest kangaroos in the world is called the great grey. It's grey and brown, and lives in open countryside forests.
